INTRODUCTION

Faculty development programs (FDPs) are proven successful in improving teaching skills in higher education. FDP produces a positive effect on student's academic achievement as well as the different methods to assess FDP effectiveness. FDP presents its ideal structure and features that make FDP effective and outlined the barriers to its successful implementation as well as the future vision. FDPs produce promising outcomes in the learning and teaching practices and recommend that teachers in higher education should attend FDP training activities on regular basis and that the scope of plan FDPs should extend beyond the discipline of the profession, to include social skills necessary for collaboration, professional growth as well as management, and leadership abilities. The Continue employment and advancement of faculty members depend upon growth in teaching practices; thus, there is a need for faculty across all disciplines to understand the best instructional practices and the strategies that develop effective teaching behaviours and skills. The Program aims at enhancing the academic and intellectual environment in the Institutions by providing faculty members with enough opportunities to pursue research and also to participate in seminars/conferences/workshops. Participation in such a program would enable faculty members to update their research and pedagogical skills. The programs focus on enhancing functional area expertise improving one's classroom delivery both as a teacher and trainer enhancing abilities for conducting meaningful research. It is going to be a pioneering conference to bring together all renowned experts from the discipline of education. It is an initiative in the process of emerging needs of school education and services. This initiative shall be of great benefit to Schools Principals, Counsellors, Senior Faculties & educationalists to participate and exchange valuable thoughts in the process of evolving effective strategies toward child development and meeting the global standards of school education.

Report of Faculty Development Programme

(Resource Person: Dr P.K.VERMA,
Dr Kamal Kumar Bose,

After lunch in the second session, resource person Dr P. K. Verma started his discussion with very basic idea of concept of education, learning and teaching. He shared few very important aspect to be considered while social emotional learning. He highlighted the importance learning and gave idea about domains of learning i.e. cognitive, affective, psychomotor and interactive. He shared his knowledge with participant using different real life examples. It helped to make subject fully understand and created interest among participants.

The Program was concluded by the discussion of all the resource person and followed by the National Anthem by all the members and participant present there.

Date: 29th August 2018
(Second Day)

On the second day, after welcoming all the guest a group dance by pooja group was performed. First session was started by Dr P. K. Verma on Social-emotional learning (SEL). He stated that it is the process of developing the self-awareness, self-control, and interpersonal skills that are vital for school, work, and life success. People with strong social-emotional skills are better able to cope with everyday challenges and benefit academically, professionally, and socially. From effective problem-solving to self-discipline, from impulse control to emotion management and more, SEL provides a foundation for positive, long-term effects on kids, adults, and communities.

After lunch second session was started by Dr Kamal Kumar Bose. He stated that social and emotional learning (SEL) is an integral part of education and human development. SEL is the process through which all young people and adults acquire and apply the knowledge, skills, and attitudes to develop healthy identities, manage emotions and achieve personal and collective goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain supportive relationships, and make responsible and caring decisions. SEL advances educational equity and excellence through authentic school-family-community partnerships to establish learning environments and experiences that feature trusting and collaborative relationships, rigorous and meaningful curriculum and instruction, and ongoing evaluation. SEL can help address various forms of inequity and empower young people and adults to co-create thriving schools and contribute to safe, healthy, and just communities. The session was concluded by the discussion of all the resource person and vote of thanks by Rakesh Kumar Rai. Later the program ended with the National Anthem.

Date: 30th August 2018
(Third Day)

On the third day, after welcoming all the guest a program was performed by Pooja and group. Mr Upendra Upadhyay, Principal addressed the participants and requested Dr Pradeep Kumar Gupta to start the session. Dr Pradeep Kumar Gupta stated that Social emotional learning (SEL) is a methodology that helps students of all ages to better comprehend their emotions, to feel those emotions fully, and demonstrate empathy for others. These learned behaviours are then used to help students make positive, responsible decisions; create frameworks to achieve their goals, and build positive relationships with others .

The second half session was addressed by Mr. S.R. Upadhyay after lunch . He stated the Five Social Emotional Learning Competencies

Self-awareness

Self-management

Social awareness

Relationship skills

Relationship skills.

Resource person concluded the session by their discussion followed by the vote of thanks by Vivek Raj Jaiswal. Later National Anthem was sung by all the people presented there.

Date: 31st August 2018
(Fourth Day)

All the resource persons were welcomed by the IQAC coordinator. A group dance was performed by the college students. Thereafter, Dr P.K. Verma stated that while SEL isn't a designated subject like history or math, it can be woven into the fabric of a school's curriculum. When educators make academic lessons more personal and relatable to students, students may be more inclined to participate and may be less likely to mentally check out during their subjects. By fostering a sense of empathy, self-awareness, and feelings of safety and inclusiveness in the classroom, SEL can have a positive impact that lasts a lifetime. There are several different approaches to SEL. Some teachers have a more formally designated portion of the school day devoted to SEL — sometimes taught in homeroom. These lessons become a recurring theme throughout the rest of the school day to help make the core competencies of SEL more real to students.

Teachers can also work with students to set goals in areas where they may need improvement and help chart their progress, giving them a measurable way to show their achievement and feel a sense of accomplishment.

After lunch all the interested participants were invited to share their views. Valediction session started with token of respect to all the resource persons. Everyone was given feedback form and lastly vote of thanks was delivered by Madhu Ranjan. The program was successfully concluded with National Anthem.

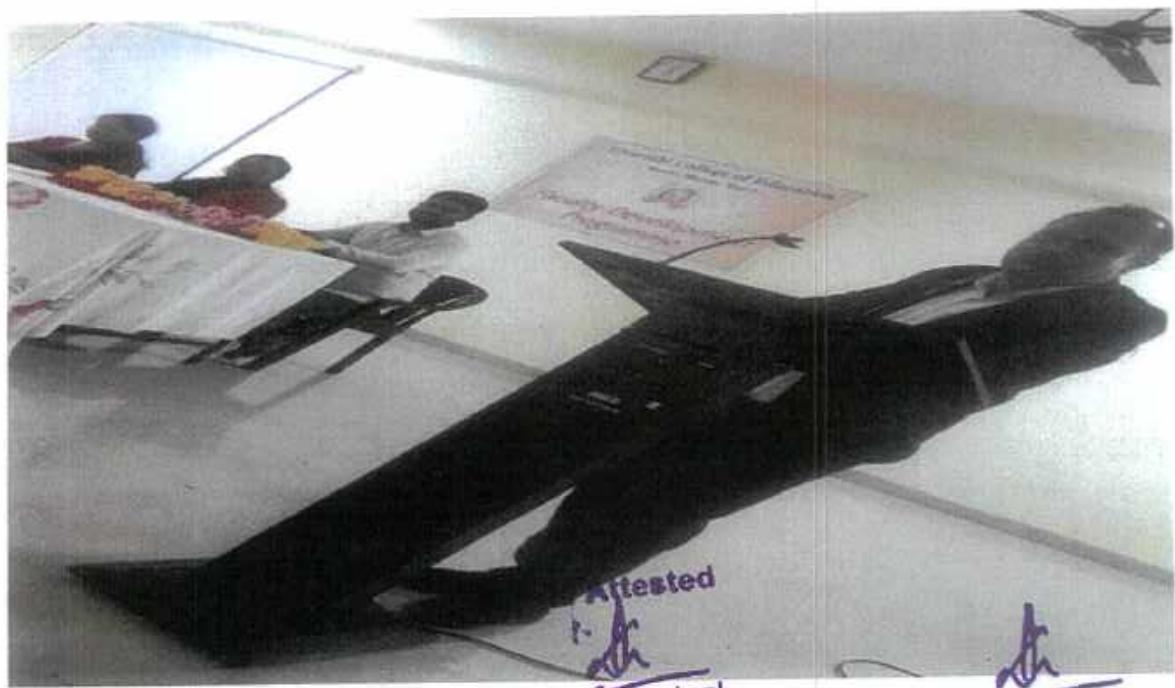

The following feedback was received from the participants:

1. 86% of the participants felt that the delivery and presentation of the resource person was good.
2. 90% of the participants were of the opinion that the FDP brought practical knowledge of the subject in them.
3. 90% of the participants felt that the FDP was coordinated very well.
4. Participants felt that such FDP should be arranged regularly.
