Report for use of ICT

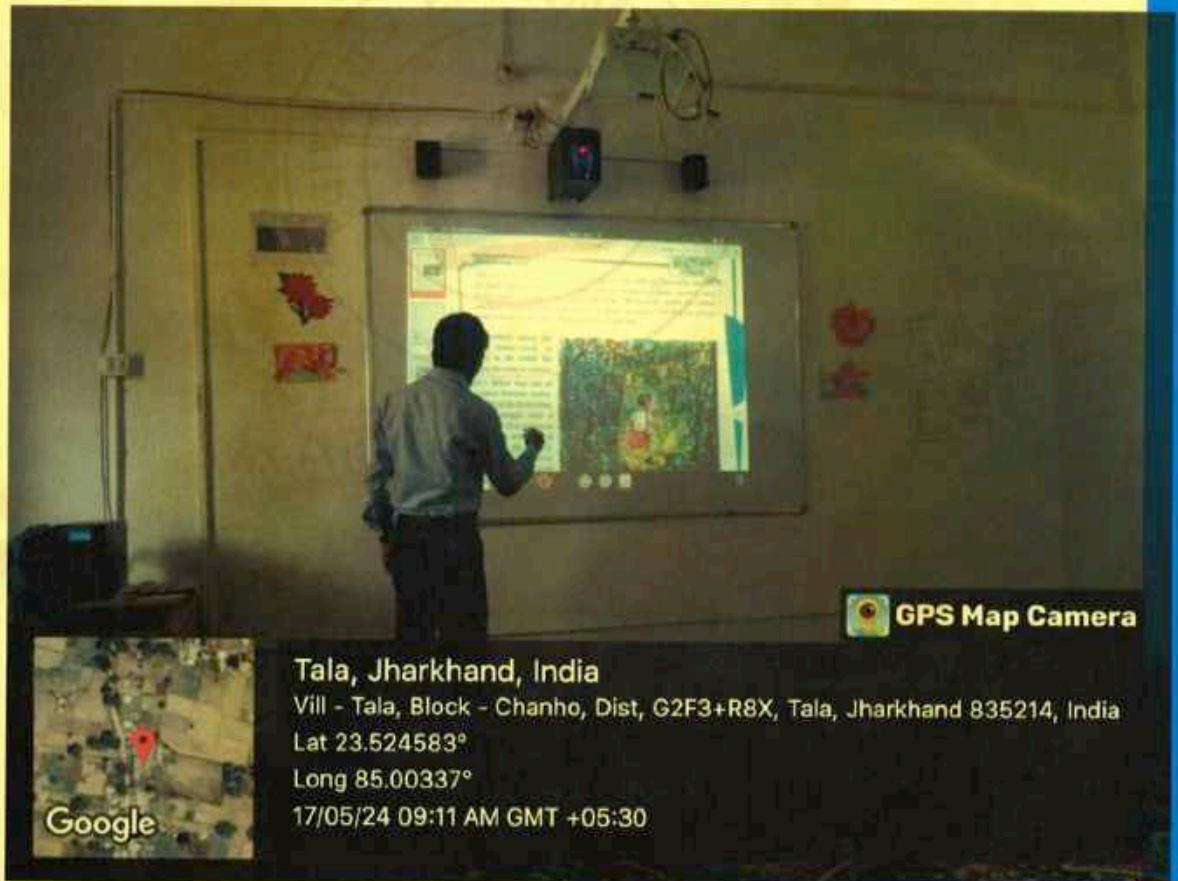

ICT is helpful in the professional development of the student teachers. A student teacher can learn various language skills with the help of ICT. By integrating ICT tools and strategies into the classroom, educators can create a more engaging, effective, and accessible learning environment for students of all ages. The use of ICT is so widespread in society that classrooms should not be less, and they must ensure that they take advantage of what they can bring us. However, children and young people must be taught to use them consciously and safely.
